

JOINING FORCES 2011 SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

Dianna Able, PhD- diannaabel@weber.edu

Dr. Able is the Director of the Counseling & Psychological Services Center at Weber State University, where she has worked for 13 years. A native of Southern California, she earned her bachelor's degree in Psychology from California State University, Long Beach. She earned her master's and doctoral degrees in Counseling Psychology from the University of Utah. Dianna is a licensed psychologist who enjoys working with many of the developmental issues common to the college student experience, most especially those related to identity, self-esteem, relationships, gender and culture. For the past three years, she has volunteered on the NU-HOPE (Northern Utah – Hold On, Persuade, Empower) Suicide Prevention Task Force in Ogden, and she currently co-chairs the QPR education initiative responsible for training over 500 members of the community in the past year.

Craig Barlow, JD- crbarlow@utah.gov

Craig attended the University of Utah where he earned his BA in English. He earned his JD at the University of Utah School of Law. He worked in the Utah Attorney General's office as the Assistant Attorney General of Criminal Appeals, White collar Crimes and Civil Rights. He served as Executive Director of the Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice for Governors Matheson and Bangerter. From 1993-1996 he was the Assistant Attorney General of the State of Utah. Currently, he is the Division Chief of the Children's Justice Division for the Utah Attorney General's Office of the State of Utah.

Del Bircher, LCSW- dbircher@utah.gov

Del has nearly 20 years of experience in both direct and administrative experience. He is currently the domestic violence program administrator for the State of Utah, Department of Human Services, Division of Child and Family Services. He is also a lead faculty at the University of Phoenix.

Douglas Braun-Harvey, MFT, CGP, Certified Sex Therapist- dbh@BridgingSexualHealth.com

Sexual health psychotherapist Douglas Braun-Harvey bridges sexual and mental health and facilitates organizational change as well as outpatient individual and group therapy for men with out-of-control sexual behavior (OCSB). He is a national and international trainer bridging principles of sexual health within drug and alcohol treatment, group psychotherapy, HIV prevention and treatment, and child maltreatment. Author of Sexual Health in Drug and Alcohol Treatment: A group facilitation manual and Sexual Health in Recovery: An assessment and counseling manual to be published in fall 2010. Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist (MFT), Certified Group Psychotherapist (CGP) and Certified Sex Therapist (AASECT Certified).

Jaynie Brown, BA- jayniebrown@gmail.com

Jaynie is a Strengthening Families Program Trainer, mother of seven grown children and a legislative lobbyist for the Utah chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD-Utah). She helped create and pass laws dealing with increased DUI penalties as well as lobbied for and secured funding to begin an E.A.S.Y. (Eliminate Alcohol Sales to Youth) compliance check program to eliminate the retail supply of alcohol to kids. Jaynie is a member of the state Underage Drinking Prevention Workgroup and helped establish the state's ParentsEmpowered.org media campaign and website to show the harms of underage drinking and the proven parenting skills that can prevent it: "Bonding, Boundaries, and Monitoring." She is a member of the Salt Lake City Mayor's Coalition on Alcohol, Tobacco, and Other Drugs as well as of the State Prevention Steering Committee. She has worked with the schools as the MADD Education Specialist developing curriculum on the harms of underage drinking to the developing teen brain and is Executive Producer of MADD's "Strengthening Families Program DVD" created with Dr. Karol Kumpfer that contains proven skills to prevent underage drinking and drug abuse in teens, as well as lowering the risks of child abuse. Jaynie has a BA from Brigham Young University in Broadcast Journalism.

Bruce Bynum- bbynum@kcsl.org

Mr. Bynum is a parent leader with the Kansas Children's Service League, national Circle of Parents-Parents as Leaders team and National Fatherhood Advisory Committee. Mr. Bynum also serves as a regional program coordinator for the Kansas Children's Service League's Parents Helping Parents (Circle of Parents) program in eastern Kansas. Mr. Bynum and his wife are raising 4 of their grandchildren. Mr. Bynum has presented at national and state workshops.

Kristine Campbell, MD, MSc- kristine.campbell@hsc.utah.edu

Kris Campbell is an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Utah. She provides clinical care as a child abuse pediatrician with the Center for Safe and Healthy Families and as a general pediatrician with the South Main Clinic. Her research is focused on understanding and improving outcomes for children and families living with a history of child maltreatment, and she is currently funded through a 5-year career development award from the National Institutes of Child Health and Human Development. Dr. Campbell's interest in the question of medical-legal misunderstandings springs from her occasional encounters with lawyers in cases of suspected child abuse.

William Carson, MA- CarsonSeminars@aol.com

Captain William Carson has more than 31 years' experience as a police officer in the St. Louis metropolitan area. He has served 16 years in criminal investigation units as a detective, a supervisor and eventually a commander, having experience in juvenile, sex crimes, homicide, and undercover narcotics & vice investigations. In addition to this experience, he has received several hundred hours of specialized training related to the investigation of sex crimes.

Captain Carson has a Master's Degree in Criminology & Criminal Justice from the University of Missouri - St. Louis. Upon completing his graduate studies, Captain Carson conducted interviews with incarcerated sex offenders as part of two separate research projects. These interviews took place over a three-year period (2003-2005) at seven different prisons throughout the state of Missouri. More than 70 convicted child molesters were studied in detail for these projects, including a unique series of interviews with 18 women that had been convicted of molesting children.

Captain Carson currently is a commander with the Maryland Heights (MO) Police Department and serves as a Deputy Commander with the Major Case Squad of Greater St. Louis. He has investigated and commanded homicide investigations for the Major Case Squad in St. Louis, St. Charles, Lincoln and Warren Counties in Missouri. He sits on the Missouri State Child Fatality Review Panel, and is a member of the International Homicide Investigators Association.

Christine Chytraus, RN, BSN, CPM- chrischytraus@utah.gov

Chris has been the Program Manager for the Fostering Healthy Children with the Utah Department of Health for the past 10 years. Prior to her work with the Department of Health, Chris worked at Utah Children as a Policy Analyst and Lobbyist for Children's issues at the State legislature. She is founder of The Sharing Place, a Grief Support Program in Salt Lake and has worked in administration, education, pediatrics, intensive care, outpatient services during her nursing career.

Alicia Cook, JD- ACook@slco.org

Ms. Cook graduated from the University of Utah College of Law in 2000, and was hired as a prosecutor by the Salt Lake County District Attorney's Office in January of 2001. Ms. Cook has been a member of the Narcotics Enforcement Prosecution Team, the Special Victims Team, and the office's first Domestic Violence Team. Ms. Cook became the team leader of the office's first Vulnerable Adult Abuse team in 2009. Ms. Cook is currently the team leader of the Special Victims team.

David L. Corwin, MD- david.corwin@imail.org

Dr. Corwin serves as Medical Director of Primary Children's Center for Safe and Healthy Families, as well as Professor and Chief of the Pediatrics Child Protection and Family Health Division at the University Of Utah School Of Medicine. He is board certified in Psychiatry, expert witness addressing child abuse cases throughout the United States and Canada. In the late 1990's, Dr. Corwin and colleagues at the University of Cincinnati developed a child forensic interviewer training program within the Childhood Trust, a joint effort between the University's Psychiatry Department and Cincinnati Children's Medical Center. He has an ongoing interest in the adverse impacts associated with exposure to violence and abuse across the lifespan and currently serves as the President-Elect of the Academy on Violence and Abuse which is dedicated to increasing the education of the health professionals and research in that area.

Stephen Daley, M Ed- steve@radKIDS.org

Stephen M. Daley is currently the Executive Director (CEO) of the radKIDS Personal Empowerment Safety Education and Life Skills Organization (www.radKIDS.org), a 501c3. Steve is a national leader in violence prevention and resiliency development in children's lives. A 20-year law enforcement veteran, who returned to education over a decade ago, he has been quoted, "Because he was tired of showing up after the crime and victimization." Steve is a highly regarded national speaker who has also appeared on America's Most Wanted, Good Morning America, The CBS Early Show, The Today Show, and many other national cable and network media shows.

Chuck Diviney, MC, LPC, NCC, CCMHC- cdivineyiii@yahoo.com

This presentation focuses on the issues of sexuality, namely those involved with the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender Community. Specific objectives include discussion and overview of the sexuality continuum presented by Dr. Alfred Kinsey; introduction to the scale of acceptance presented by Dr. Dorothy Riddle; developmental milestones for those coming out; issues and challenges within the GLBTQ Community; resources identified for ongoing referral and further training. Additional information presented includes substance misuse and domestic violence within the GLBTQ Community, as well as providing support and treatment for such issues.

Mathew Edvick, BSW- mat@teenesteemcouncil.com

Mat Edvik has nine years of experience teaching and speaking to teens. He is currently teaching at Entheos Academy, an Expeditionary Learning school in Kearns, Utah. He is a husband and father. He spent four years coaching Girls Basketball on a Varsity level. Mat is a musician who has written several songs and recorded as a session guitarist on several CD's. He is the co-founder of the Teen Esteem Council and Producer of the Teen Esteem Council Podcast which has, at present, over 23,000 downloads. Mat is co-author of the book Dropping Him, Finding Me, and has helped hundreds of youth find self-esteem and see themselves as valuable in today's world.

Wendy Fayles, BA- wendyf@namiut.org

Wendy Fayles and her husband are the parents of three children, all of whom were perfect until they reached junior high and then all heck broke loose. Two of her children have since been diagnosed with bipolar disorder. Wendy has a degree in English from Brigham Young University and a degree in Hard Knocks from the afore-mentioned children. Wendy has been working with NAMI Utah (the National Alliance on Mental Illness) for almost two years, helping families and individuals impacted by mental illness to be aware of the free classes, support groups, and other resources that NAMI has to offer.

Kathleen Franchek-Roa, MD- kathy.franchek@hsc.utah.edu

Dr. Kathleen Franchek-Roa is an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at the University Of Utah School Of Medicine. She currently teaches residents and medical students about pediatric medicine. In addition, Dr. Franchek-Roa has a special interest in domestic violence and how this impacts children's mental and physical health. She developed a curriculum to teach residents about the role of the physician in identifying and assisting victims of domestic violence. Dr. Franchek-Roa is currently teaching this curriculum to Residents at the University Of Utah School Of Medicine. As a member of the Utah Domestic Violence Council Subcommittee on Health Care, Dr. Franchek-Roa also provides this training to health care providers throughout the State of Utah.

Dr. Franchek-Roa has received several awards for her teaching and her involvement in community projects related to domestic violence. She is currently working on several research projects to develop guidelines for identifying and intervening in violent families and to analyze the effect that witnessing violence has on children.

Douglas Goldsmith, PhD- dgoldsmith@tccslc.org

Dr. Douglas Goldsmith is the Executive Director of The Children's Center in Salt Lake City. He has worked with families with toddlers and preschoolers for over 25 years and specializes in the application of attachment theory to clinical practice. The Children's Center is the recipient of a SAMHSA grant making them a partner of the National Child Traumatic Stress Network (NCTSN). This affiliation has allowed Center staff to gain considerable expertise in the area of trauma and has enabled staff to be trained in several evidence based practices.

B.J. Gore, MS- bjgore@kcsl.org

Ms. Gore is the Program Supervisor for the Kansas Children's Service League's Parents Helping Parents/Parent Leadership, the Circle of Parents statewide program in Kansas. Ms. Gore is responsible for developing and managing the Circle of Parents network of programs. Ms. Gore program responsibilities included the development and management of mutual self-help support groups which are parent led as well as the development of parent leaders in the state using the parent leadership model. He creates opportunities and advocates for the active participation of parent leaders in programs in KCSL and in communities across the state. For the last 3 years Ms. Gore has also provided leadership, training and technical assistance to promoting fatherhood services through home visiting programs through the national Circle of Parents' Partnership for Kids' responsible fatherhood grant. Ms. Gore has presented many national, state and local workshops.

Michelle Greene, LCSW- mehgreene@gmail.com

Michelle is a child and family therapist currently working at Valley Mental Health Children's Outpatient Services and Primary Children's Center for Counseling. She has been in practice for five years and has been heavily involved in DBT groups during the entire time and even before that time, during graduate school as an intern. Michelle graduated from the University of Utah Graduate School of Social Work in May 2006 and has loved working as an outpatient therapist since that time.

Bruce Herman, MD- bruce.herman@hsc.utah.edu

Bruce Herman is board certified in pediatrics and pediatric emergency medicine. He is director of the Pediatric Emergency Medicine Fellowship at Primary Children's Medical Center. Dr. Herman is a general pediatrician, pediatric emergency medicine physician at Primary Children's Medical Center (PCMC), and a pediatrician in the Center for Safe and Healthy families at PCMC.

Tia Hoffer, PhD- tia.hoffer@ic.fbi.gov

Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Tia A. Hoffer has a doctoral degree in Clinical Psychology and prior to her work with the FBI, she was employed by the University of California, Los Angeles, and the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health, where she conducted psychological assessments, individual, and group psychotherapy. SSA Hoffer has been with the FBI for thirteen years and is currently assigned to the FBI's Behavioral Analysis Unit III. SSA Hoffer provides operational support to federal, state, and local law enforcement through case consultations, on-site deployments and is a member of the FBI's Child Abduction Rapid Deployment Team. She has trained criminal justice and mental health professionals in matters involving child abductions, child homicides, and sexual victimization of children for federal state, and local law enforcement. SSA Hoffer is currently conducting research on the following topics: Suicide Among Child Sex Offenders, Criminal Histories of Animal Cruelty Offenders and An Analysis of the General Assessment Questionnaire Supplemental as a Reliable Measure of the Five Factor Model.

Kristen Howell, MSW- khowell@genesishelter.org

Kristen Howell, LCSW, is the Director of Development at Salesmanship Club of Dallas, a program serving over 5000 families in distress each year in Dallas. Kristen was previously employed at Genesis Women's Shelter, where she worked for over 10 years. At Genesis, she served as a women's therapist, the Director of Clinical and Professional Services, and as Director of Fund Development. She has worked with adult victims of domestic violence in both the shelter setting, as well as in the long term counseling center. As Clinical Director, Kristen managed a staff of 12 clinicians, and was involved in the management of 1000 clients every year at Genesis Outreach and Shelter.

As Development Director, Kristen is part of the team that raises $9 million each year through private donations, special events, and community foundations to provide counseling and therapeutic services for families, a state-of-the-art school for at-risk children and training for over 1000 professionals each year. She still frequently speaks on domestic violence, and the impact violence and trauma have on children and our community.

Kristen graduated from Baylor University with a Bachelor's in Social Work and the University of North Carolina with a Master's in Social Work. She is active in the Junior League and with First United Methodist Church, Downtown. Kristen is married to Bill Howell, an attorney with Baker Botts, and has two young daughters.

Kristy Jones, MPH- Kristy.Jones@imail.org

Kristy is the Community Projects Coordinator for the Urban North Region, Intermountain Healthcare and is based at McKay Dee Hospital. Prior to this position, she spent over 9 years as the Director of the Area Health Education Center at Weber State University. She earned her bachelor's degree in Public Health from Utah State University and her Master of Public Health from Idaho State University. Kristy also spent 8 years in Idaho working in Cancer Prevention and Control programs at the State Health Department. She serves on many community coalitions and task forces and has served on the NU-HOPE (Northern Utah – Hold On, Persuade, Empower) Suicide Prevention Task Force in Ogden since its inception and co-chairs with Dr. Abel the QPR education initiative. .

Jodie Jones, MA- jjones@infowest.com

Jodie is currently enrolled in a doctoral program at the University of Utah in organizational communication and conflict. She earned a BA degree at Southern Utah University in Psychology and Communication and a MA degree at California State University-Dominguez Hills in Conflict Resolution and Negotiation. She has been on the court roster of mediators for the state of Utah for the past seven years and she is currently a Teaching Assistant in the Conflict Resolution Certificate Program at the University of Utah. Her mediation work includes family mediation, divorce, parent planning, real-estate and workplace mediation services. She is a former Prevention Specialist for Prevent Child Abuse Utah.

Rich Kaplan, MD- kapla111@umn.edu

Dr. Rich Kaplan is a board certified pediatric child abuse specialist at the University of Minnesota. He is an Associate Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Minnesota Medical School. He is the Medical Director of The Center for Safe and Healthy Children - the University of Minnesota Amplatz Children's Hospital Child Abuse Program.

Dr. Kaplan received a Masters in Social Work degree from St. Louis University and a Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of South Dakota. He completed a pediatric residency in Phoenix, AZ.

Rich is a fellow of the American Academy of Pediatrics, a charter member of the Ray Helfer Society and a former member of the Society's executive committee. Dr. Kaplan is a 2003 recipient of the United States Department of Health and Human Services: Commissioner's Award for Outstanding Service in the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect. Most recently, Rich has received the 2009 award as "Outstanding Front Line Professional" from the American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children. He is also a member of the Executive Board of the American Academy of Pediatrics Section on Child Abuse and Neglect (SOCAN) and has been named as the Section's representative to the Academy's Committee on Child Abuse and Neglect (COCAN). Rich has also cofounded the Telehealth Institute for Child Maltreatment – a national program to provide expert review to child abuse medical providers regardless of their location.

Rich is also a consultant and teacher for the Midwest Regional Children's Advocacy Center – a program supported by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention. First, as a social worker and now as a pediatrician, Rich has been working with child abuse victims for over 40 years. Most recently Dr. Kaplan has become board certified in the new pediatric specialty: Child Abuse Pediatrics. He is also certified in General Pediatrics.

Donna Kelly, JD- donnake.ucadm@state.ut.us

Donna Kelly has spent most of her 29 year career as an attorney as a felony prosecutor. Since 1990, she has handled child abuse and adult sex crimes and domestic violence cases, and has done well over 100 felony jury trials. She began her career as a prosecutor in Oregon, where she was named Child Advocate of the Year by the American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children (APSAC), for her work with child abuse victims and her work to improve child abuse laws and consequences to offenders. She now works as a Deputy County Attorney in Utah County in the Special Victims Unit prosecuting adult and child sex crimes and domestic violence. Outside the office as her therapy, she develops recipes for two food blogs and has authored six published cookbooks.

Karol Kumpfer, PhD- kkumpfer@xmission.com

Karol L. Kumpfer is an American Indian (Pawnee) psychologist and a Professor of Health Promotion and Education at the University of Utah, who specializes in substance abuse, delinquency, and child abuse prevention for children of addicted parents primarily through promoting family-based prevention approaches. She was the State of Utah Deputy Director of the Division of Alcohol and Drug. From 1998 to 2000, she served as the Director of the federal DHHS Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP) in Washington, D.C. where she funded the American Indian Initiative and the Walk of the Sacred Hoop across America. She has served on the Board of the Indian Walk-in Center and the Executive Committee of Utah Indian and the SL City Mayor's Office's Drug-free Communities Coalition. She is the program developer of Strengthening Families Program (SFP), which the international Cochrane Collaboration Reviews at Oxford University suggest is the most effective school-based alcohol and drug prevention program based independent research.

Jennifer Larson, SSW- jblarson@utah.gov

Jennifer graduated from Weber State University with Bachelor's degree in Family Studies. She has worked for the Division of Child and Family Services for the last 11 years in Child Protective Services Investigations, Foster Care, In-home Services and as a Trainer. Jennifer is currently certified as an instructor through the National Alliance for Drug Endangered Children.

Linda Lewis, MSN, FNP-BC- linda.lewis@imail.org

Linda Lewis earned her Masters as a Family Nurse Practitioner in Nursing from Brigham Young University in 1984. Since 1991 she has worked mostly with children who are allegedly victims of physical/sexual abuse or neglect. She was the first Nurse Practitioner trained by Primary Children's Medical Center to work at the Utah County's Children's Justice Center in Provo.

Marty Liccardo, BS- marty.liccardo@gmail.com

Marty Liccardo is a Health Educator for the University of Utah Center for Student Wellness. Before coming to the University of Utah, Marty was a Statewide Prevention Coordinator for the Utah Coalition Against Sexual Assault and also the Gender-Based Violence Prevention Specialist for Duke University. Marty also worked for the University of Maryland where he coordinated Primary prevention to engage men in violence prevention. Marty graduated in 2002 from the University of Utah with a degree in Women's Studies. His professional experience includes working for the Utah Coalition Against Sexual Assault and the Salt Lake Rape Recovery Center as prevention and education coordinator and a member of the Hospital Response Team. Marty has worked in sexual violence prevention and intervention with a specific focus on men's anti-violence engagement for over nine years.

Daniel Medwed, JD- daniel.medwed@law.utah.edu

Daniel S. Medwed is Professor of Law at the University of Utah S.J. Quinney College of Law. Prior to joining the Utah faculty in 2004, he was an instructor at Brooklyn Law School and served as assistant director of that school's Second Look Program, a clinic that investigated and litigated post-conviction claims of innocence by New York State inmates. His teaching and research interests revolve around the field of criminal law. He is publishing a book, tentatively entitled Prosecution Complex: America's Race to Convict and Its Impact on the Innocent (NYU Press, forthcoming 2012) that explores how prosecutors inadvertently contribute to wrongful convictions due to cognitive biases and the presence of an overly-deferential regime of legal and ethical rules. He is a graduate of Yale College and Harvard Law School.

Summer Morris, M Ed, LPC- summeramorris@yahoo.com

Summer received two BS degrees in Family and Human Development and Psychology at the University of Utah in 1999. She went on to obtain her Masters of Education, also from the University of Utah in Educational Psychology and she is currently licensed as a Professional Counselor.

Summer is currently working at A Guardian Angel Adoption Agency in Sandy, Utah where she works with birth parents who are considering adoption. Summer has worked as a professional counselor at Preferred Family Clinic from 2003-2009 where she worked with individuals, couples and families in helping them establish consistency, structure and unity in the home. She loves working in all areas of family and individual support but she specializes in working with teen girls and women in finding ways to overcome obstacles of self-esteem, confidence building, anxiety and depression. Summer also is an expert in the areas of infertility, the impact of infertility on marriage and how to "live with purpose" while living with infertility.

Summer is co-author of the book, "Dropping Him, Finding Me", a book written for teen girls in order to improve and enhance self-esteem and confidence. She lives in Draper, Utah with her husband, Spencer where they enjoy spending time with each other, their triplet 17 month olds, family and friends. She loves to travel and experience the world from many different people and cultures and is energized by others' lives and their abilities to endure and succeed.

Christina Ortega, JD- cortega@co.davis.ut.us

Christina Ortega graduated from Weber State University in 1999 with a degree in Criminal Justice and then graduated from law school at the University of Utah in 2002. She worked as a Law Clerk at Salt Lake County District Attorney's Office from 2001-2002. She was Deputy District Attorney with Salt Lake County from 2002-2010 where she worked in the Special Victims Unit. Since 2010 she has served as Deputy County Attorney with Davis County and is currently assigned to screen victim under the age of 18 for crimes of sexual abuse and physical abuse.

Rob Parrish, JD- rparrish@slco.org

Rob Parrish began his legal career with the Utah Attorney General's Office in 1980. Through many years of work as an appellate and trial attorney, he gravitated to the field of child abuse and child maltreatment, becoming a nationally recognized expert in the physical abuse and murder of children. After spending 20 years with the Attorney General's Office, Rob then spent a 2- year sabbatical as the Deputy Director of the National Center on Shaken Baby Syndrome. He then returned to government law practice as a Guardian ad Litem, representing abused and neglected children in juvenile court between 2002 and 2007. He is now prosecuting criminal cases again as a Deputy Salt Lake County District Attorney, and his work involves both general felony prosecution and child abuse homicide prosecution. Rob presents training for all professionals on a wide range of child maltreatment issues, is on the Board of Directors of the American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children, and co-edited the book Abusive Head Trauma in Infants and Children with Drs. Lori Frasier, Kay Rauth-Farley and Randell Alexander in 2006.

Travis Peterson, Sergeant- tpeterson@slco.org

Travis Peterson was hired by Sandy City Police Department in 1994. Travis worked Patrol and K-9 until 1997 when he was transferred to Investigations assigned to the Crimes Against Persons unit. Travis worked Child Abuse (Sexual and Physical), Homicide and Death Investigations, Robbery, and Domestic Assault. He was involved with the NICHD Child Forensic Interview Protocol research in 1998, and has assisted in training new investigators, CPS Workers, U.S. Army, and Air Force since that time. Travis worked Crimes Against Persons until 2004 when he was hired by the Salt Lake County District Attorney's Office. He is currently a Sergeant in Investigations at the District Attorney's Office working Special Victim's cases. Travis is one of the Investigation Coordinators for the Utah Child Abduction Response Team.

Thomas Popkin, BS, Detective- tpopken@flash.net

Tom is a Detective with the Dallas Police Department and has served for over 31 years. He currently works in Personnel but has worked narcotics, patrol and spent eight years as an instructor at the Dallas Police Academy. Tom teaches nationally for Monadnock as part of the Safari Land Training Group and for the National Law Enforcement Training Center in Kansas City. Tom is the creator and presenter of the "No Technique System" of self-defense. He has a Bachelor of Science degree in Law Enforcement and Sociology from Mankato State University in Minnesota.

Reed Richards, JD- rreid@co.weber.ut.us

Reed is a native of the Ogden area where he practices law and serves as the legal advisor for the Weber County Sheriff's Office and a Deputy Weber County Attorney. He also serves as the City Attorney for Hooper City, Plain City, Wolf Creek Water and Sewer District and as the Public Affairs Director and legal advisor for the Utah Sheriff's Association as well as working in a private law firm with his son Brandon. Reed was the Weber County Attorney from 1987 to 1993 and the Chief Deputy Utah Attorney General from 1993 to 2000. He has been an adjunct professor at Weber State University and a POST Instructor for over thirty years. Reed serves as the Chairman of the Utah Council on Victims of Crime and, with some reluctance, is a member of numerous state and local councils and committees. On a personal note, Reed has enjoyed many years of service for the Boy Scouts of America and has served as the President of the Trapper Trails Council of the BSA. He is also very active in church and community activities. Reed has coached numerous little league ball teams while raising he, and his wife Martha's, four children. (Occasionally they even won a few games.)

Julia Robertson, BS, CPA- jrobertson@utah.gov

Julia graduated from the University of Wisconsin/Milwaukee with a degree in Business Management and received her C.P.M. from the American Academy of Certified Public Managers. She has a diverse background studying and educating pregnant and breastfeeding mothers about possible effects of medications on the fetus and breastfed infant. Ms. Robertson has worked on several research studies with the CDC and the Utah Department of Health. She has also authored many peer-reviewed publications focusing on maternal medication consumption and the effect on the developing fetus and co-authored a book chapter in "Clinical Teratology for the Pediatric Practitioner." Ms. Robertson has lectured at the University of Utah to the colleges of pharmacy, obstetrics, psychology, and nursing, the Utah Adoption Association, women's treatment providers, WIC, and the Department of Human Service's Division of Child and Family Health Services. Ms. Robertson has worked as a project coordinator, teratogen information specialist, and currently holds the title of program manager at the Pregnancy Risk Line Program at the Utah Department of Health.

Richard Rose, MS- lpd151@yahoo.com

Det. Rose graduated from Florida State University in 1991 with degrees in Political Science and Religion. He completed a Master's degree in Counseling with emphasis on Marriage and Family Therapy from Webster University. He worked as a Child Protection Team Case Coordinator at the Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children and Women from 1991-1997. While at APH Det. Rose conducted over 800 forensic interviews of children suspected of being abused. He has been qualified in both the Ninth and Tenth (Florida) Judicial Circuits as an expert in the field of Child Abuse and Neglect and Forensic Interviewing of Children. Since joining LPD in 1997 Det. Rose has served in the Patrol Division, School Resource Unit and Criminal Investigations, specializing in Crimes Against Children and Sex Offender/Predator tracking and monitoring. Other specialty assignments have included Field Training Officer, Domestic Violence Response Team, Honor Guard and Hostage Negotiator.

Det. Rose has served as Chairman of the Polk County Sexual Abuse Task Force and as the Chairman of the Victim Services Coalition of Orange and Osceola Counties. He is a member of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement's Regional Task Force, Child Abduction Response Team (CART).

Det. Rose is married to Sharon Edgerton-Rose, a Victim Advocate at LPD. They have five children and two grandsons, Jayden and Kolton.

Joy Shelton, BA- joy.shelton@ic.fbi.gov

Joy Lynn E. Shelton received her BA in History from Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg, VA, in 1997. While attending college she was a legal intern for the Stafford County Commonwealth's Attorney. There, she conducted legal research and assisted the attorneys in all phases of trial preparations. This experience sparked an interest in the criminal justice field and led her to her current position within the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

Mrs. Shelton began her career with the FBI in 1998 and joined the National Center for the Analysis of Violent Crime (NCAVC) in 1999. Currently, Mrs. Shelton is a Crime Analyst within the FBI's Behavioral Analysis Unit Crimes against Children, a component of NCAVC. She serves as the Principal Researcher for the FBI's research on maternal filicide and has authored and published two articles on the topic of neonaticide the killing of child within 24 hours of birth. She is also a co-researcher for the Suicide among Child Sex Offenders project. In addition, she also provides analytical support for other crimes against children research and operational support for investigations.

Mrs. Shelton has presented at a wide-variety of national training venues to include American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children (APSAC) annual conferences, American Prosecutors Research Institute Child Fatality conference, American Psychiatric Association, and Institute of Pediatric Medical Education. She is also an instructor at the FBI's National Academy at Quantico, VA.

Amy Spratling, LPC- amy.spratling@imail.org

Amy Spratling is a Child and Family Therapist at Primary Children's Medical Center-Safe and Healthy Families. She has worked at SHF for 4 years and works with children and teens using evidence-based treatment models. Her favorite treatment models are DBT, PCIT, and TF-CBT. She graduated from the University of Wisconsin.

Jim Struve, LCSW- jimstruve@mac.com

Jim Struve, LCSW is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker in private practice in Salt Lake City. He works extensively with male survivors of sexual abuse and assault. He is a founding member of MaleSurvivor and Co-Chair of the MaleSurvivor Weekends of Recovery Retreat program. Jim was the recipient of the Richard Gartner Award for Clinical Excellence which was given at the 2010 International MaleSurvivor Conference in New York City. His clinical work with trauma survivors is based in a therapeutic relationship that emphasizes the principles of mindfulness.

Jim Tanner, PhD- jim@kbsolutions.com

Dr. Tanner has 40 years' experience in community corrections. He obtained his PhD in Cognitive Social Psychology from the University of Illinois, specializing in Phenomenology and Criminology. Dr. Tanner serves as the computer forensic examiner for Probation in the 20th Judicial District of Colorado and has examined more than 1,400 sex offenders' computers. He is nationally recognized as a leader in sex offenders and digital issues and the management of sex offenders' computers. He is responsible for the creation of Field Search, a forensic software application in use in the US, Canada, UK, Europe and Australia. He also developed the Structured Sex Offender Treatment Review (SSOTR) in use nationally to monitor sex offenders' behavior.

Cecelia Tso- ceceilia.tso@utah.edu

Cecelia Tso is Navajo from Salt Lake City, Utah and her family is from Lukachukai, Arizona. She is currently at the University of Utah, College of Education in the Dean's Office, where she the Director of the American Indian Teacher Education Collaboration (AITEC), working with American Indians that want to become teachers. Cecelia also works with the "Strengthening Families Program" as the American Indian Trainer of Trainers. She works with tribes in Canada and the USA to assist in obtaining funding and to deliver the SFP Program to American Indian communities. Past board services: the Indian Walk-In Center, Utah Non-Profits Association and the American Indian Resource Center Advisory Board.

Heidi Valdez- hvaldez@utah.gov

Heidi's background is Elementary Education and Educational Administration. She was a member of the DCFS Child Abuse and Neglect Advisory Council for 8 years and a member of The National Alliance of Children's Trust and Prevention Funds Parent Partnership Council for 2 years. She has been the Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Program Administrator with DCFS since July 2010. She oversees the funding/programming for Crisis Respite Nurseries, Children's Trust Account, Community Based Child Abuse Prevention and Promoting Safe and Stable Families/Family Support.

John Warnick- jwarnick@sdmsi.com

John B. Warnick was born and raised in Casper, Wyoming, and is the only son and second child of two lawyers, John A. and Carol Warnick. As John B. grew from an active toddler to an energetic young boy, he excelled at swimming, tennis, baseball, and youth soccer. When John was ten years old he was carrying a secret he didn't share with anyone; he had been sexually molested by a soccer coach he idolized and trusted. For the next ten years, John would bury that secret. John could never shake the secret that haunted him until he found the courage and faith to seek and confront the molester.

Today John B. shares with law enforcement agencies, school administrators, youth counselors, and concerned adults the incredible story of how his decision to go to the police and district attorney, led him to participate in a sting operation that attacked a nationwide child porn network.

Over the last 11 years, John B. has had the opportunity to be a presenter and keynote speaker at numerous National conferences and local law enforcement training programs throughout the United States and Canada. John B. has an undergraduate degree in Electrical Engineering from Brigham Young University and a Master's Degree from The Daniels College of Business at the University of Denver. John B. is currently the Chief Executive Officer for a Company in Lakewood Colorado. John B. and his wife Amy have four children, JC, Kade, Max, and Holly.